

CATTLE POISONED BY OAK LEAVES

Losses Reported From the Section Southwest of Ephraim.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)
Ephraim, Aug. 30.—Stockmen grazing cattle southwest of this section have suffered serious loss during the present summer by the cattle eating oak leaves. Ordinarily the stock does not browse much on oak and the little they do get, taken with the other food, is not injurious, but when, as in the present case, the oak furnishes a large portion of the daily food of the cattle, the results are serious.

The oak leaves and sprouts contain a large percentage of tannic acid. The action of this fluid on the stomach is extremely injurious and the losses have been severe. The symptoms of the disease are staring eyes, and feverish and blistered lips and nose. The coat becomes rough and the hair is turned the wrong way.

So far as is known, the only remedy for this trouble is linseed oil given as a drench in amounts from one to two quarts. This appears to overcome the injurious effects of the tannic acid, and if the disease is not advanced too far and the animal can be furnished sufficient food so it will not be forced to eat the oak, it will generally recover.

CONTRACT FOR WATERWORKS

Shelley Will Soon Have Reservoir and Completed Pipe Line to the Cost of About $10,000.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)
Shelley, Ida., Aug. 30.—At the last regular meeting of the city council a contract was entered into between the village of Shelley and the N. D. McCutcheon company of Idaho Falls for the construction of a waterworks system consisting of a reservoir on the butte east of town, with a capacity of 60,000 gallons, an eight-inch main to town and two miles of two-inch galvanized pipe, with necessary hydrants, valves, etc., to cost not to exceed $10,000. Work will commence at once and be completed within ninety days.

A contract was also awarded A. Blomberg for driving a six-inch well 250 feet deep, guaranteeing a water capacity of 50,000 gallons per day, at $3 per foot. The system will be operated with a two-horsepower gasoline engine temporarily until electrical power can be obtained.

SANTA FE FILES ANSWER

Last of Fourteen Roads to Reply to Complaints Made by Traffic Bureau Here.

A copy of the reply of the Santa Fe railroad to the charges of discrimination against Utah in freight rates made to the interstate commerce commission by Utah business men was received yesterday. The reply was merely a brief general denial of the complaint filed by the traffic bureau.

The reply of the Santa Fe is the last to be received from the fourteen railroads against whom charges have been preferred. In each case general denials were made, and in the cases of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Salt Lake Route specific detailed denials were made.

The position of the Santa Fe is somewhat different to that of some of the other railroads that are parties to the action. The Santa Fe does not enter Utah, and is made a defendant in the case merely as one of the connecting lines in the chain of railroads handling Utah business. At Pueblo the Santa Fe connects with the Denver & Rio Grande for Utah business, and at Denver it delivers to the Union Pacific freight destined for Utah points.

The interstate commerce commission's hearing on the charges will begin in Salt Lake on Sept. 22.

MINING CASE IS SUBMITTED

Silver King Con. Seeks to Compel Silver King Coalition to Account for Disputed Property.

The suit instituted by the Silver King Consolidated Mining company to compel the Silver King Coalition Mines company to have an accounting relative to a disputed fraction of the mining property claimed by both companies was submitted yesterday to Judge John A. Marshall of the United States court for the district of Colorado. The case was submitted on the evidence taken before John W. Christy, examiner for the United States court, and arguments and briefs were taken on either side. At the submission of the case Judge Andrew Howat, E. B. Critchlow and Judge H. R. McMillan appeared for the complainant, and A. C. Ellis, Jr. for the defendant.

Judge Marshall took the case under advisement, after which the federal court adjourned until Saturday.

H. M. FOSTER ADMITTED TO THE FEDERAL BAR

H. M. Foster of St. George, a member of the Nevada bar, was admitted to practice in the United States court yesterday on motion of Attorney E. B. Critchlow. Mr. Foster became a lawyer through being a party to some litigation in Nevada. He studied law to become more familiar with this case and then decided on law as a profession.

After studying a correspondence course in law he went to Rawlins and engaged in practice with a law firm there, and later became admitted to practice before the supreme court of Nevada. He has recently returned to St. George and will engage in the law practice in that city.

TOOLEE FARMERS WANT STRIP FOR RESERVOIR SITE—CASE IN COURT.

Testimony in a land suit brought by the government against the state of Utah, involving the character of land on a reservoir site in Tooele county, is being given before Colonel M. M. Kaighn, receiver for the United States land office.

The case is relative to 75 acres of land on the west slope of the Bingham range, which was a part of the state selection of lands under the government land grant. The contention of the government is that this land is of a mineral character and hence cannot come under the selection of agricultural lands by the state.

Tooele agriculturists are eager to have this land retained by the state that it may be used as a reservoir in connection with an irrigation project.

At the hearing the state is represented by W. S. Marks of Tooele, who is working in the interest of the farmers who would profit by the retention of this land. Special Agent Nathan Gammon and W. L. Walker, United States mineral inspector, appear for the government. At the conclusion of the hearing a transcript of the testimony and the decision of the receiver will be sent to the general land office at Washington for final decision.

SUPPLY CONTRACTS LET

County Commissioners Close Deals for Printing, Books and Binding for the Year.

Contracts for the printing of books, blanks and stationery for the various county officers for the ensuing year were let by the board of county commissioners yesterday, but the bids for the printing of the 1909 delinquent tax list were rejected and the auditor authorized to re-solicit for bids. The commissioners believe that by this method they can get a lower bid and the competition of more local papers.

As a means of doing away with any chance of confusion in the ordering of supplies by the different county departments, the commissioners divided the bids into separate classes for each office. Under this system each office will get all of its supplies from one place, and not have the trouble of ordering pencils at one, ink at another, stationery at a third, and so on. Successful bidders were:

Auditor's office—Printing, Grocer Printing company; books and binding, Kelly & Co.

Assessor's office—Printing, Grocer; books and binding, Kelly & Co.

Treasurer's office—Printing, Grocer; books and binding, Kelly & Co.

Recorder's office—Printing, Tribune-Reporter; books and binding, Kelly & Co.

Clerk's office—Printing, Star; books and binding, Kelly & Co.

Attorney's office—Printing, Tribune-Reporter; books and binding, Kelly & Co.

Commissioner's office—Printing, Utah Lithograph company.

Pauper clerk—Printing, Grocer.

For all books and binding Kelly & Co. received the contracts.

HOMES FOR AMBASSADORS

Movement to Support Dignity of Uncle Sam's Representatives in Foreign Lands.

Secretary J. L. Perkes of the Salt Lake Real Estate association has received communication from the American Embassy association asking that the organization of which he is secretary become a member of the association.

The objects of the American Embassy association, according to the plans outlined in the letter, are to induce the national government to acquire in all of the world's suitable residences for the ambassadors from this country.

It is pointed out in the circular that the United States has not always been represented with dignity, because of the fact that the house which the ambassador occupied was not equal to the dignity of the office. The letter will undoubtedly be referred to the Commercial club for action.

PROPERTY DEEDED BY STATE TO GOVERNMENT

Governor William Spry will today attach his signature to a deed ceding to the federal government the rights which the state may have to the Minor property on Postoffice place, which was purchased by the government several months ago for the purpose of making additions to the post-office and federal building.

The objects of the American Embassy association, according to the plans outlined in the letter, are to induce the national government to acquire in all of the world's suitable residences for the ambassadors from this country.

It is pointed out in the circular that the United States has not always been represented with dignity, because of the fact that the house which the ambassador occupied was not equal to the dignity of the office. The letter will undoubtedly be referred to the Commercial club for action.

SIX BRICK DWELLINGS ON NEWLY MADE STREET

Permits for six five-room brick dwellings on Modern place, a newly made street running half a block south from Second South street, between Sixth East and Seventh East streets, were taken out by the Zion's Co-operative Home Building and Real Estate company yesterday from the building department.

The dwellings will cost $2,300 each, or an aggregate of $12,800. This same building company has opened a similar street off of Brigham street, between Seventh East and Eighth East streets, where a number of new homes have been erected.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ARE THERE WITH FISH TALES

Vacation days are ending for most of the county officials, and the trout will be given a rest for a time, at least, so far as they are concerned. Yesterday County Treasurer Groesbeck and Assistant County Attorney John M. Bowman returned to their work after two weeks in the hills and in the mountain streams.

They caught plenty of fish to hear them tell it and during their spare moments yesterday were busy recounting wonderful stories of their vacation days.

Miss Esther Allen will open her violin studio for the fall term at Hammond Hall, corner Third East and Third South, Wednesday, Sept. 3. Bell telephone 4392.
